

February Seminar – Future Shift – The Evolution of Law Library Work

The Vancouver Association of Law Libraries is pleased to present our first seminar of the season with guest speaker Sarah Sutherland on Tuesday, February 19th at the Shangri-La Hotel.

Sarah will talk about some of the changes happening in law libraries & the practice of law and what they mean for law libraries. She will talk about ways for library & knowledge management staff to look for opportunities & seek out professional development opportunities pre-emptively as a way to maintain relevance & professional interest. She believes the practice of law is changing toward increased emphasis on both technology & management skills, which creates opportunities for library & knowledge management staff to work toward better integrating into the larger practice of the firm. She will talk about some of the changes and ways to take advantage of the opportunities available.

Sarah is the manager of library services at McMillan LLP in Vancouver.
